

Stakeholder meeting in Linköping, January 22, 2018.

On January 22, 2018 a stakeholder meeting was organized at Linköping University. The aim of the meeting was to do a self-assessment of the support system, using the self-assessment tool that has been developed in the project.

As an outcome of our self-assessment workshop, we have produced a refined list of support actors in the region. This list specifies the location of the support actors and also which phase of eco-innovation they support.

We have also produced an updated description on the various functions the support actors provide for eco-innovation and internationalisation.

We will work further with this list of actors to produce a refined map of support actors within the region. We will also work further to produce a complete list of actors and their support functions.

Participating organizations: Cleantech Park, Business Sweden, The Regional Council of Östergötland, ALMI, Linköping University, County Administrative Board of Östergötland.

Upcoming activities

As the fourth semester of the project is coming to an end, there is only one year left of the first phase of the project. During semester 5 all partners will write a report on the results from the self-assessment and identify good practices. The results will be discussed at the next interregional exchange of experience seminar in Tipperary, Ireland in June 2018.

The results and recommendations from the self-assessment will then be used to develop the action plans during semester 6. The action plans will be implemented and monitored during phase 2 of the project, starting in April 2019.
