

TEMPLATE 4b: Preliminary (Social) Cost Benefit Analysis

The new circular product/process you have decided to take up:

Try an exercise, for example using reclaimed wood in the manufacture of furniture

List changes this will bring to your business practices*	List investments require to make these change	List benefits to business from the changes	List benefits to other stakeholders	List benefits to territory

It is advised to develop a map or chart, which visualises the ‘life-cycle’ of the new circular product or process; To visualise each stage and understand the implications to the business in question*