Players involved

The main players, which are involved in the promotion and financial support of energy efficiency measures for individual buildings, with special attention to energy poverty aspects are:

- Eco Fund,
- Office for Energy Rehabilitation of Buildings (OERB),
- Relevant Ministries,
- Local communities,
- Social centres,
- Energy suppliers
- ESCO companies.

BUILD2LC - Related to Good Practices

1. Warm & Well - Energy Efficiency Advice and Installation Scheme (SWEA, UK)
2. Energy wise housing cooperatives (RJH, Sweden)
3. Through Knowledge to a Warm home (REGEA, Croatia)

Visit of SWEA - UK, June 2017

Improving policies to tackle energy poverty

- Definition of energy poverty on national level in Slovenia.
- Distributing of small packages with accessories, as in case of good practise from UK, to battle energy poverty in low-income families.
- Possibility of ESCO companies entering into the market of energy renovations of low-income owners.

ZERO – home visits for reducing citizens' energy poverty

Citizens who are eligible for social assistance can get a free visit from an energy consultant from Eco Fund on home.

When visiting the home, the energy consultant performs appropriate measurements and calculations, on the basis of which he advises how to reduce the use of energy and water.

In addition to advice, counselors also receive a package of simple devices to reduce energy and water consumption (energy-saving lamps, power extensions with a switch off, energy-saving fittings for faucet and shower, window seals, etc.).

By following the advice and installing these devices, the cost of energy and water consumed can be reduced by around € 100 per year.

In the following, the consultant also presents the possibilities for various more demanding measures for which (perhaps in the future) the Eco Fund could obtain support in the form of grants or loans.

EKO SKLAD

ZERO 500 program

The ZERO 500 program is aimed at low-income households facing energy poverty.

The project started in the summer of 2020 and will last until 2023.

The subsidy will not be higher than 9.600 € per individual socially disadvantaged household.

The total value of the program is 5.9 million euros.

On the basis of a public call, the Eco Fund will grant non-refundable financial incentives to eligible investors, amounting to 100% of the eligible investment costs.

For the implementation of investments in energy efficiency measures on building built before the 31. 12. 1967.

An energy-poor household is one that cannot meet basic energy needs. It is especially difficult to pay bills for electricity, water and space heating.

The public call is a pilot call within the program "Subsidizing RUE measures in 500 low-income households to solve energy poverty - Program ZERO500, funded by the European Cohesion Fund (<https://www.eu-skladi.si/>), and will run until 2023.
