RFC Recapture the Fortress Cities is an Interreg Europe project that aims to develop strategies to sustainably restore, maintain, and exploit urban forts and fortified cities. It will generate smart ways to capitalise on military heritage and bring fortresses back into the lives of cities.

Take a look at the good practices that partners have already put in common!

Terezín/Theresienstadt – the Project of the Restoration of Historic Buildings

The key impact of the project is an opportunity to guarantee re-use of the historic buildings and they are contributing to sustainable and adaptive (re)development

Singelpark, Leiden – image quality plan and citizen participation

The project's core is the image quality plan as spatial tool with the botanical garden as reference and starting point for the total greening of the project. The quality plan is built around ten commandments, seven single areas for phased development in time and specific design guidelines for a uniform and qualitative public space

Rehabilitation of the Tailors Tower in Cluj- Napoca - the adaptive “reuse concept” into practice

The rehabilitation project ended in 2009, transforming the abandoned heritage objective into the first Centre for Urban Culture of the city, contributing to the attractiveness of the city and also bringing more tourists in Cluj-Napoca.

Strengthening the common cultural heritage of the Polish- Slovak border

The project is aimed at creating conditions for connecting the old tourist route from Sabinov to Muszyna in Poland. It is intended to attract people to visit monuments in both cities. The project includes modernization and reconstruction work of the medieval city walls and seven bastions in Sabinov

GUDAR JAVALAMBRE - Castles and Stars Festival

Annual festival in which the quality of the sky and the potential of its medieval heritage is valued for the practice of astronomical seeing in the Gúdar Javalambre Region (Teruel).

Moving on a different matter, Teruel hold the second online meeting. You will have more information about this meeting, that was celebrated on July 8th, here

Change of defense barrack into a “culture fortress”

Establishment of a cultural and meeting place as an interface between the city and its universities thus preserving a listed former Prussian Defensive Barracks. The idea was developed by civil society
